

HOW TO USE THE PRODUCT

From a requirement to an awarded order

A screen-by-screen walkthrough of every page, and what you can do on it.

The sidebar is the journey. You build an RFQ, read what the suppliers sent back, ask questions about it, and take a decision — in that order. Each screen shows its working, so you can always see where a number came from before you act on it.

01 · BUILD	02 · READ	03 · ASK	04 · DECIDE
RFQ Copilot Describe what you need. The assistant asks only what changes a supplier's price, then drafts the RFQ.	Quotes & Comparison Supplier replies in any format become one table, with the original wording behind every figure.	Procurement Analyst Ask about the quotes in plain English. Every answer shows its method and what it left out.	Award & Execution Pick a supplier per line, approve, send each one a letter, and generate the order handoff.

THE LANDING SCREEN — THE SIDEBAR ON THE LEFT IS THE WHOLE PRODUCT

START HERE

Press Open on Start here — the worked example. It is a 30-line RFQ with five suppliers who already replied in five different formats, so every screen in this guide has something real on it. To set the product up on a new machine first, see the Setup Guide.

AI Procurement Analyst

Describe what you need to buy. This turns it into an RFQ suppliers can quote against, reads their replies whatever format they arrive in, answers your questions about them, and carries the decision through to an awarded order — showing its working at every step.

1 · DESCRIBE

Say what you need in your own words. The analyst asks only the questions that change what a supplier would quote.

2 · COMPARE

Supplier replies arrive as spreadsheets, PDFs, emails, photographs. They become one comparison, with the original wording behind every figure.

3 · ASK

Ask about the quotes in plain English. Every answer is calculated from the same records the comparison shows.

4 · DECIDE

Award each line, override anything, and send each supplier a letter written only from their own lines.

WHAT YOU CAN DO HERE

- Type what you need in the box — a single sentence is enough (“I need corrugated carton boxes”), then press Continue.
 - Or pick an example to start from: Carton boxes, Detailed carton request, Steel brackets or LED desk lamps.
 - Answer the questions the assistant asks back. They are grouped by section and chosen for your product — only the ones that change what a supplier would quote.
- Skip anything you don't know, or just describe everything in prose. Nothing is mandatory.
 - Watch readiness climb as you answer. The panel separates what you said from what the assistant suggested, and never confuses the two.
 - Reopen earlier work from Saved RFQs in the sidebar — every RFQ is saved locally as you go.

TIMING One Copilot turn is a live model call and takes roughly 35 seconds; a very large turn can take a few minutes. The footer under the box confirms the setup: it runs on Claude Code through your Claude subscription, there is no API key, and nothing is sent to suppliers.

REVIEW RFQ — READINESS, PROVENANCE BADGES AND THE LINE-ITEM GRID

WHAT YOU CAN DO HERE

- Read the status strip at the top: Supplier-ready, percentage complete, how many line items, and which turn produced it.

○ Check the overview — product, category and product type, as the assistant classified them.

○ Read the badge on every requirement. Buyer stated is what you said, AI recommended is a suggestion with its reasoning attached, and Buyer unsure is an open question.
- Expand Details on any field to see the evidence behind that value.

○ Scan the line items — every line with its specification and quantity.

○ Go back to Copilot to answer more questions or correct anything, then return here.

WORTH NOTING A recommendation never silently becomes a fact. If the assistant proposed a payment term or a validity period, it stays marked as a recommendation until you accept it — and the reason it suggested that value is shown next to it.

A bare figure is a comparable price. A figure marked · review or · conflict is a number the system will not stand behind on its own — pick the line below to see why. · not quoted is an absence, not a zero; · unresolved means the price cannot be reduced to a per-piece figure; · no response means the supplier never replied.

COMPARISON TAB — NORMALIZED PRICE PER PIECE, PER SUPPLIER, PER LINE

WHAT YOU CAN DO HERE

- Read the four counters:

how many suppliers replied, how many line-and-supplier cells carry a price, how many things need review, and which currencies came in.
- Change the currency.

Show prices in converts every supplier at a live published rate; each converted figure names the rate, its source and its date, and the supplier's own figure stays beside it.
- Pick a line under Where did a number come from?

to open every supplier's entry for it side by side.
- Jump onward with Ask the analyst or Take a decision.
- Re-run extraction to read every response again from the original files.

- Switch tabs

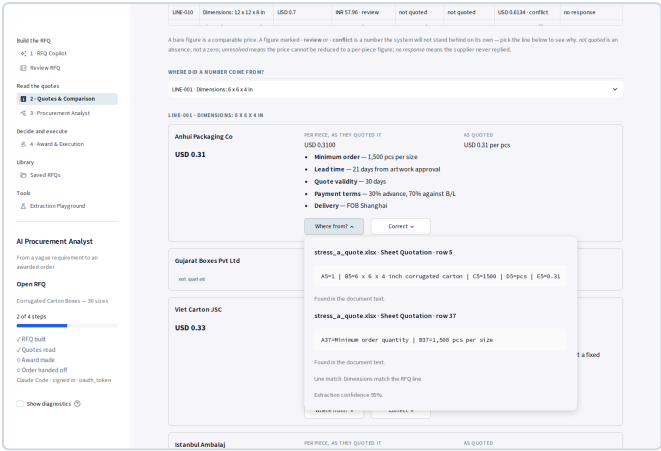

for the supplier list, the review queue, and certifications.

CELL READS	IT MEANS
USD 0.31	A comparable price. The system will stand behind this figure.
· review	A number that needs your confirmation first — open the line to see why.
· conflict	The supplier said two different things; both are kept, neither is chosen.
not quoted	An absence. This supplier did not price this line — it is not a zero.
unresolved	Priced on a basis that cannot be reduced to a per-piece figure.
no response	This supplier never replied at all.

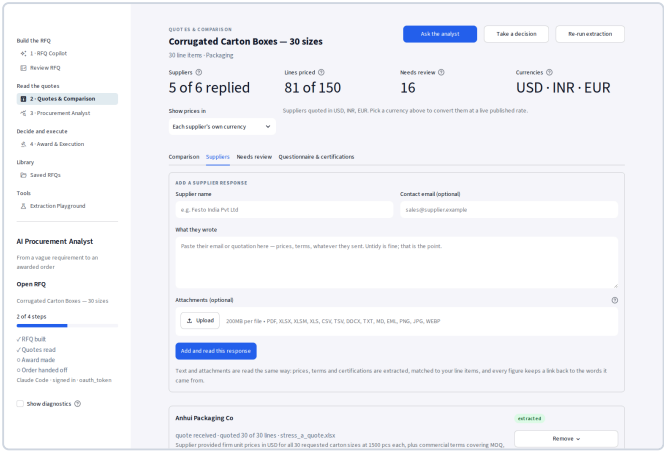

COMPARISON → WHERE FROM? · TAB → SUPPLIERS

Trace a number, or add a reply

Every figure links back to the words it came from — and you can drop in a new supplier response at any time.

WHERE FROM? — THE SUPPLIER'S OWN ROW, QUOTED

SUPPLIERS TAB — ADD OR REMOVE A RESPONSE

TRACING A FIGURE

- Pick a line, and each supplier shows the per-piece figure, the figure exactly as they quoted it, and their MOQ, lead time, validity, payment and delivery terms.
- Press Where from? to see the source — the file, the sheet and row or the page, and the original sentence or cell.
- Press Correct to enter the right value yourself when a supplier confirms one.

- Add a supplier response: name them, paste what they wrote, attach their files, or both. Text and attachments are read the same way.
- Attach PDF, XLSX, XLS, CSV, DOCX, TXT, MD, EML, PNG, JPG or WEBP.
- Open any document to see the original beside the text the system read from it; Remove takes a response back out.

TIMING

Reading one supplier response takes roughly 30–90 seconds. Responses are processed four at a time, so a five-supplier RFQ finishes in about a minute and a half rather than six minutes.

NEEDS REVIEW — THE QUEUE OF THINGS HELD BACK FOR A HUMAN

WHAT YOU CAN DO HERE

- Unmatched supplier line — nothing in the supplier's wording identified an RFQ line safely. Pick the line it belongs to, or leave it unmatched and it stays out of the comparison.
- Line match to confirm — the system inferred a line but wants you to agree. Until you confirm, that price carries a review flag.
- Price that cannot be compared — for example a figure whose currency the supplier never named, or a price quoted per kilogram with no weight given.
- Contradiction — a supplier said two different things. Record which one applies; both statements stay on the record either way.
- Claim without a certificate — ask the supplier for the certificate itself. It becomes verified only when that document arrives.
- Resolve in any order. Nothing here blocks you from moving on; it only marks what the totals are not yet willing to include.

WHY IT MATTERS

This tab is the honest version of the comparison table. A clean number that quietly guessed at a currency or a line match is far more expensive than a flagged one you can settle in thirty seconds.

CERTIFICATIONS

A supplier saying they hold a certificate is a claim. It becomes verified only when the certificate itself is among the documents received.

Supplier	Certification	Status	Number	Expiry	Note

Shenzhen Print & Pack	ISO 9001	Supplier claim	—	—	Stated by the supplier with no certificate attached.
Shenzhen Print & Pack	FSC	Supplier claim	—	—	Stated by the supplier with no certificate attached.

QUESTIONNAIRE

Supplier	Which quality certifications do you hold, and can you attach	What payment terms do you offer?	What is your production lead time after artwork approval?
Anhui Packaging Co	ISO 9001:2015, Cert CN-ISO-884512, expires 2027-03-14	30% advance, 70% against B/L	21 days from artwork approval
Gujarat Boxes Pvt Ltd	ISO available.	not addressed	24 days
Viet Carton JSC	ISO 9001 certification held; a copy can be provided on request	40% deposit, balance against documents	Approximately 20 days (no explicit link to artwork)
Istanbul Ambalaj	ISO 9001 certificate no. TR-9001-4471 attached.	50% advance, 50% before dispatch	26 days after order confirmation
Shenzhen Print & Pack	ISO 9001 certified; FSC certification is in progress (not yet)	not addressed	18 days after approved artwork (standard); 30 days for custom

An item a supplier never addressed is shown as not addressed. It is never read as a no.

CERTIFICATIONS AND QUESTIONNAIRE — CLAIMED VS. VERIFIED, SIDE BY SIDE

WHAT YOU CAN DO HERE

- Read the certification table: the supplier, the certification, its status, the certificate number and expiry where given, and a note explaining the status.
 - Tell the two statuses apart. Supplier claim means they stated it and attached nothing. Verified by document means the certificate itself is among the files received — and the file is named.
 - Use it as your quality bar. The award screen can require a certificate the system actually holds a copy of, and this table is where you see who would survive that.
- Read the questionnaire table for each supplier's answers on certifications, payment terms and lead time after approval.
 - Spot the silences. An item a supplier never addressed reads not addressed. It is never read as a no.
 - Follow up outside the tool, then add their reply on the Suppliers tab — it is read the same way as the original.

THE RULE

A quotation that mentions a certificate is not a certificate. The system will not let a supplier's own quote verify that supplier's own claim — only a separate certificate document does that.

Ask about the quotes in plain English

Answers calculated from the same records the comparison shows — with the method and the exclusions attached.

Take a decision

The analyst describes what the quotes say. Choosing who gets the business happens on the award screen, where the decision is recorded.

e.g. Who is cheapest for each line? Which suppliers cleared quality?

AN ANSWER TO “CHEAPEST AMONG QA-CLEARED” — AND THE 24 CELLS IT LEFT OUT

WHAT YOU CAN DO HERE

- Press a suggested question. Cheapest by line, Supplier coverage, What should I review?, RFQ completeness, Quality status, Lead times, Cheapest among QA-cleared. These are pre-built queries and answer instantly, with no model call.

○ Or type your own in the box at the bottom — two model calls, roughly a minute.

○ Read the headline figures: lines answered, lines without a valid quote, and the basket total at the cheapest comparable price.

○ Open “Left out of this answer” to see every supplier and line excluded, each with the reason it was excluded.

○ Open “How this was calculated” for the steps, the assumptions, and any exchange rates used with their source.

○ Export this result (CSV), or press Take a decision to carry it to the award screen.
- BOUNDARY

The analyst describes what the quotes say — it never recommends a supplier and never awards anything. A question the data cannot settle is refused rather than answered plausibly, and a what-if (“ignore minimum order quantities”) is labelled as one and changes nothing on the record.

STEP 1 — BEST VALUE AND CHEAPEST, SIDE BY SIDE, ON EVERY LINE

THE THREE STEPS ON THIS SCREEN

- Start the award seeds every line with two proposals: the cheapest comparable quote, and the cheapest whose supplier also clears the quality bar.
 - Step 1 — pick per line. Choose Best value or Cheapest in the row. The ⓘ opens the whole field: every supplier who priced that line, their terms, and the reason anyone was excluded.
 - Set the bar with Best value requires a certificate we hold a copy of. It is off by default; turning it on is recorded as an assumption on the award.
 - Override any line under Award a line to someone else. A reason is required, and the override survives a re-seed.
- Step 2 — what will happen. The total, the supplier split, what choosing quality costs over pure price, the validation Notes, and How this was worked out.
 - Step 3 — execute. Approve this award commits the lines. Then Prepare supplier messages drafts one letter per supplier, each written from that supplier's own lines and checked before you see it. Finally Generate order handoff produces a structured order per supplier with CSV and Markdown downloads.
 - History in the header replays every state change, with the state it replaced.

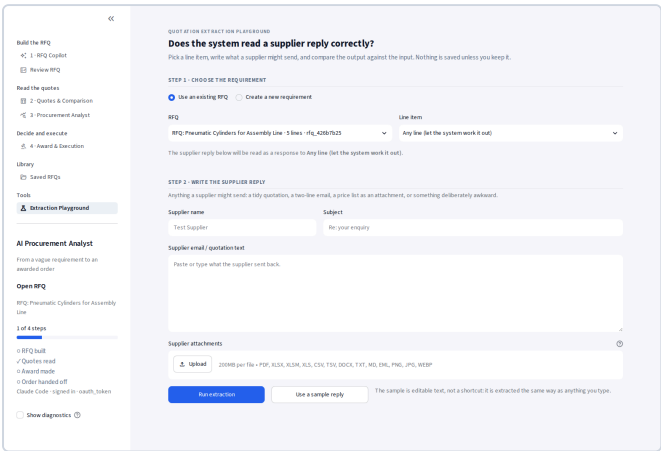

SIMULATED

Nothing is emailed. Recording a message as sent is a simulation and is labelled as one on every screen that mentions it; the order handoff is a document you download, not an order submitted anywhere.

WHAT THESE ARE FOR

- Extraction Playground — pick an existing RFQ line or write a new requirement, then write whatever a supplier might have sent, attach a file, or use a sample reply.
- Run extraction and the real Phase 2 reader runs over it, so you can compare what you wrote with what the system was willing to take from it.
- Nothing is saved from a playground run unless you deliberately promote it.
- Saved RFQs — every RFQ is stored locally as you work. Reopen one to carry on exactly where you left it.
- Extraction — about 30–90 seconds per supplier response.
- A suggested analyst question — instant, no model call.
- Your own analyst question — roughly 60–120 seconds.
- A supplier letter — roughly 30–60 seconds each. There is always a deterministic letter, so a slow call is never a dead end.
- A Copilot turn — about 35 seconds; a very large one can take a few minutes.

BADGE	WHERE YOU'LL SEE IT, AND WHAT IT MEANS
Buyer stated	Review RFQ — a value you gave, recorded as yours.
AI recommended	Review RFQ — a suggestion, with its reasoning, until you accept it.
Supplier claim	Certifications — stated by the supplier, with no certificate attached.
Verified by document	Certifications — the certificate itself is among the files received.
not addressed	Questionnaire — the supplier never answered. Never read as a no.

RESET

Re-run the demo seed before showing the product to anyone. Supplier response dates are relative to the seed run, which is what keeps the expiring-quote warning live instead of drifting into an expired one.
